

Proofreading a Story

REMEMBER After writing something, it is a good idea to read it through to make sure there are no mistakes.

This is the beginning of a story. Read it through, correcting the spelling mistakes and adding in the punctuation marks and capital letters.

on saterday i went to visit my grandad tom tom has a very big howse with six bedrooms and seven bathrooms his garden is just as big it has a swimming pool in it! tom has a butler called fred fred my grandad called can you bring us lunch fred went away and reterned with a big feest with so much to eat thanck you i said i started to tuck in to the food i ate five chiken wings three hot dogs and a plate of chips

There are 16 missing capital letters, 9 missing full stops, 5 missing commas, 6 missing speech marks (3 pairs), 1 missing question mark and 6 spelling mistakes!

What do you think might happen next? Continue the story on the lines.

By: _____